Detending the Indians.

New York, 12.—The Times editorially: A dispatch describes Eskiminsen as one of the most treacherous and vindictive Indians in the Territory. This is merely a lying trick for ulterior purposes. The Chieftain referred to was at one time actively engaged in hostilities against the whites, In 1871 he capitulated, and from that time to this he has been noted for friendliness to the whites, and his peaceable disposition and behavior. Eskiminsen is a thrifty farmer, and his example a thrifty farmer, and his example in the deaths in the last twenty-four hours is stored to Matamoras is statu twenty-four hours.
